PERTINENT QUESTION OF BOY

Willie Figures It Out How Father Is So Small and His Uncle Jim So Big and Tall.

At a dinner party reference was made to pertinent questions, and Congressman James S. Parker of New York recalled the story of how something along that line was exploded by little Willie.

William had an uncle on his mother's side who was a six-footer, while his father wasn't much bigger than a full-grown sparrow. Watching his uncle one day thoughts came into Willie's mind.

"Mamma," said he, turning to his maternal relative, "how is it that Uncle Jim grew so big and tall?" "He was always a good little boy," carefully explained mamma, "and because of that God permitted him to grow up tall and strong."

"I see," thoughtfully used Willie, and then added, "when father was a boy I guess he must have been some kind of a sinner."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

The Masculine Way.

"It's a wonder old Adam didn't make a kick when he lost his job as head gardener of Eden," said Growells. "Oh, he was just like the men of today," rejoined his wife.

"How's that?" asked the beginner of the trouble. "He waited until he got home," explained Mrs. Growells, "and then proceeded to raise Cain."

Fully Qualified.

Office Manager—So you want a job, eh? What kind of work can you do? Applicant—Well, I hardly know. Until recently I was assistant instructor in a boxing school, but—

Office Manager (interrupting)—Oh, I can use you all right. Come around in the morning and box our mail order shipments, and in the afternoon you can lick the stamps.

"Just as Good."

We gazed pityingly on the listless drug store clerk leaning against the soda counter.

"Haven't you any ambition?" we inquired, kindly and all that. "No," he replied, with brightening intelligence, "but I have something just as good."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Alas! Too True.

Him—As a rule a man treats a woman as she deserves to be treated. Her—Yes, I suppose so; but there are exceptions to all rules. Him—What is the exception to this one?

Her—Well, sometimes he marries her.

HANDICAP.

"So you are busted again! Well, there's a sucker born every minute." "Yes, and take it from me, old chap, there's a shark born every second."

True, But Misleading.

"Dick hugged me last night before I had the faintest idea of what he was about."

"And what did you do?" "Why, of course, I was instantly up in arms about it."

The Worst Way.

"That man wrote a highly abusive letter about the injuries he had received."

"Oh, that's not the proper way to write one's wrongs."

Their Peculiarity.

"Are Italian sunsets any different from other sunsets that they should be so called?"

"Yes, inasmuch as they make the day go."

WAR! What Is It All About?

HAS the whole world gone stark mad over a very foolish and trivial question? Are swords rattling, cannon rumbling, mailed armour glistening just because Russia wanted to show her love for the little brother—Serbia?

Tear aside the curtain of Europe's politics and see the grim and sinister game of chess that is being played. See upon what a slim, yet desperate, excuse the sacred lives of millions may be sacrificed. Read the history of the past one hundred years, as written by one of the greatest authorities the world has ever known, and learn the naked, shameful truth. Just to get you started as a Review of Reviews subscriber, we make you this extraordinary offer. We will give you

Duruy's History of the World

Four splendid cloth volumes, full of portraits, sketches, maps, diagrams

Today is the climax of a hundred years of preparation. Read in this timely, authoritative, complete, AND THE ONLY CONDENSED classic world history—of which over 2,000,000 copies have been sold in France alone—just what has taken place in the inner councils of Europe during the past one hundred years. Read in these entrancing pages how Russia has for years craftily been trying to escape from her darkness—to get a year-round open port, with its economic freedom. Read how Germany and Austria, fearful of the monster's latent strength, have been trying to checkmate her and how they have pinned all in this last, supreme stake.

The Lesson of the Past

THIS master of the pen shows you the story that was Greece's and the grandeur that was Rome's. He guides you through the Middle Ages, the picturesque old days of feudalism and the crusades; through the Renaissance up to contemporary history, which Prof. Groverman completes in brilliant manner. In the story of the past lie the secrets of today. And you will understand them better when you get the Review of Reviews for a year—for the Review of Reviews will give you a new interpretation of the events that are taking place with such rapidity. It is our courage to read the daily news reports. Your ability to comprehend conditions, and to discuss them rationally depends on a true interpretation of the meaning and the "reason why" of events. In your mind you must bring order out of chaos—and the Review of Reviews will do it for you.

Relation of Malaria to Agriculture.

An intensive study of the decrease of productiveness in an agricultural community due to malaria has been made by the bureau of entomology in Madison Parish, La. It was found that 12 families, cultivating 246 acres of land, lost an aggregate of 88 weeks during the crop-growing season from this cause, or more than seven weeks per family. The financial loss in this case was estimated at $24 per family. Where the boll-weevil prevails the losses would be much heavier, as failure to keep up the cultivation of the crop or to plant at the proper time gives the weevil a decided advantage. It is clear from these investigations that the present loss through malaria in the southern states amounts to many millions of dollars.—Scientific American.

Nimrod.

It is impossible, at this late date, to say very much about Nimrod, either as to when he lived or what he did. The "mighty hunter before the Lord" may have been a historical character, but at any rate we know very little of him. All that we know of him is found in the tenth chapter of Genesis.
